London, June 25.—(AP)—A large force of United States heavy bombers, flying without fighter escort, attacked targets of northwest Germany today and 18 of the craft are missing, headquarters of the Eighth Air Force announced.

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

American Liberator bombers striking at the Greek port of Salonika, historic invasion gateway to the Balkans in World War I, dropped more than 250,000 pounds of explosives on the Axis-occupied Sedes airdrome yesterday in the first attack there of the war, Allied headquarters announced today.

More than 50 of the big four-engined U. S. planes flew 1,000 round-trip across the Mediterranean to attack the key Aegean Sea port. All returned safely.

From northwest African bases, 300 U. S. bombers and fighters raked enemy airdromes, docks, shipping and rail targets in Sardinia, and other Allied planes attacked Sicily just off the toe of the Italian boot.

In northern Europe, RAF bombers in great force renewed the assault on Nazi war sineus in the Ruhr, smashing at the chemical center of Wuppertal.

The British air ministry has defined a "great force" as sufficient to wipe out a city of 200,000 population in a single night.

Nazis Admit Three Enemy Losses Heavy Hangars Burn

By LYNN HEINZERLING
London, June 25.—(AP)—The RAF carried its offensive against the Ruhr to a new peak last night by returning to the bomb-battered city of Wuppertal in great strength and making a concentrated attack on important chemical and textile manufacturing plants there.

Thirty-three bombers failed to return from the night's operations, which included assaults on other targets in the Ruhr and laying (Turn to Page Eleven)

BY NOLAN NORGARD
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 25.—(AP)—U. S. Ninth Air Force Liberator bombers struck for the first time yesterday at the historic Greek port of Salonika from Middle East bases while about 300 American bombers and fighters of the Northwest African Command battered communications of Sardinia, 700 miles to the west, it was announced today.

Cairo, June 25.—(AP)—More than 50 Liberator bombers scored direct hits on three hangars at the Axis-occupied Sedes airdrome of Salonika, leaving all of them in flames. Pilots saw explosives burst among administration buildings and on the field and dispersal areas.

"At least three enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground and oil fires were started," one Middle East bulletin said. "None of our aircraft is missing from these and other operations."

The attack upon Salonika, a possible objective of any Balkan invasion, involved a round trip of more than 1,000 miles across the Mediterranean.

Enemy fields, docks, shipping and an important railway junction of Sardinia were hammered by U. S. squadrons of Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' air forces after RAF Wellingtons attacked Catania, in Sicily, the preceding night.

These raiders shot down 20 of the many enemy fighters encountered and an RAF Beaufighter bagged another to make the score 21. The Allies lost nine planes.

Not Too Hot To Plan For Christmas Gifts

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—In the air conditioned post office department building, even a June hot spell does not preclude thoughts of Christmas. Wherefore the department announced today that Christmas gifts for army personnel overseas must be mailed between September 15 and October 15 to assure delivery on time.

The dates for gifts to navy personnel overseas were fixed at September 15 to November 1.

President Is Not In Favor Of Food Czar

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt spoke out again today against the setting up of a so-called food czar and said that the question at issue is whether we are for inflation or against it.

He told a press conference that congress could take the path toward inflation if it wanted to, but that if it did the responsibility would rest 100 percent on the legislators.

Suggestions that someone be given complete authority over all phases of the food program he characterized as close to a red herring. The real question, he said, is whether prices are to be kept down and whether we want to go into an inflationary spiral or not.

Suppose we had the Angel Gabriel as a food czar, the chief executive remarked. How is he going to get more food to the people at the present cost?

Sure, he went on, we all favor growing more in 1944, that would be grand. But he said it would not take care of late 1943 or early 1944 and that congress could not take care of that period, or a food czar.

Describing what he meant by an inflationary spiral in response to a question, the chief executive said that the cost of food is about a third of a family's income, and with larger wages, everybody is eating more now at greatly increased prices.

The president entered a denial when asked about reports that Food Administrator Chester Davis had submitted his resignation because he felt he has inadequate powers.

DEMOCRATS MAY BACK JUDGE BOK FOR BENCH

Harrisburg, June 25.—(AP)—Judge Curtis Bok of the Philadelphia common pleas court, was authoritatively reported to be the choice of Pennsylvania Democratic leaders for a vacancy on the supreme court as members of the party's state committee gathered today to pick a candidate.

Agreement on Bok was reached, asserted a source who can not be quoted by name, at a preliminary meeting of ranking party officials.

The Republican organization, reported planning to meet June 29, is expected to back Reno for a full term.

LIFE GUARDS SCARCE

Philadelphia, June 25.—(AP)—Some of the 38 city-operated swimming pools may remain closed for want of life guards but the youngsters have an answer to that. They kept police cars racing yesterday by opening firetrucks and dancing around in the cold spray.

A spokesman at headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today the bombs fell among "considerable" air installations. Salamaua is on the Huon Gulf only 12 miles above the jungle sector where Japanese and Allied troops frequently have engaged in patrol clashes. Today's communiqué said the Japanese troops in that sector have suffered over 200 casualties this week in futile attempts to crack Allied lines. Allied losses were described as "very light in proportion."

An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 25.—(AP)—United States bombers raided three Japanese bases in the Solomons by daylight today, starting fires around airport runways and bivouac areas. All the planes returned safely.

Allied Headquarters in Australia, June 25.—(AP)—Five hundred pound bombs dropped from Mitchell medium bombers blew up buildings and started huge fires yesterday at the Japanese base of Salamaua, New Guinea.

A spokesman at headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today the bombs fell among "considerable" air installations. Salamaua is on the Huon Gulf only 12 miles above the jungle sector where Japanese and Allied troops frequently have engaged in patrol clashes. LABOR DRAFT IS OPPOSED IN CONGRESS

Shadow of Expected Veto Of Connally-Smith-Harness Bill Brings Threats Of Reprisals

TONIGHT IS DEADLINE

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt gave no definite clue at a press conference today on what action he would take on the Connally-Smith-Harness anti-strike bill.

When reporters asked when he was going to take them into his confidence on the measure, he said it would be some time before mid-night, the time by which he must sign the bill, veto it, or let it become law without his signature.

To an inquiry as to when he would take congress into his confidence, the chief executive replied that answering that might give the press an intimation of what he intended to do.

Prediction that congress will ignore any request for labor draft legislation came from leaders of both houses today as the shadow of an expected presidential veto fell over the Connally-Smith-Harness anti-strike bill.

Voicing the sentiment expressed by many other members, Senator Chandler (D-Ky.) said he doubted that the senate military affairs committee will give any early consideration to a proposal President Roosevelt said he would submit to raise the non-combat draft age to 65. Members of the house military committee said they would be equally disinterested in any such plan.

The president wants authority to induct into the army those who strike and interrupt work in government-operated mines or plants, but Chandler said he and others already had told some of Mr. Roosevelt's advisers they believe such a move would be a mistake.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) pointed out that the house committee already had passed over a similar proposal.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), while applauding what he said he regarded as the president's conversion to the "work or fight" principle, told reporters he hoped Mr. Roosevelt would not veto the anti-strike bill. The deadline for executive action on that measure is midnight tonight.

Mr. Roosevelt said previously that the government had made no commitments when the United Mine Workers were ordered to work, but Byrd said the facts are that Lewis "has made the working of the mines conditional on his own terms, namely, that he will continue to work the mines only so long as the government operates them."

Supporters of the legislation to outlaw strikes in government-operated industries and regulate walkouts in privately-controlled plants said a veto would be fatal.

King George Arrives Safe In Homeland

BY HENRY B. JAMESON

An RAF Base in Britain, June 25.—(AP)—King George VI returned to his homeland today from an extraordinary tour of the North African battlefields, his big four-engined bomber landing at this base just after 6 a. m.

The king, deeply tanned and smiling, was the first to step from the plane. An RAF guard of honor presented arms and Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of the British air staff, stepped forward to greet the monarch.

The big bomber, escorted by ten Spitfires, landed an hour ahead of schedule because of an unexpected strong tail wind. A short time later Winston Churchill's automobile sped up and the prime minister alighted smiling.

The smile disappeared when he was told he was late. Scowling slightly, he was driven to the RAF mess to join the king.

The king appeared highly amused at Churchill's discomfiture over his late arrival and told the prime minister jokingly that he had "missed all the fun."

Ickes Poultry Farm Has a Coal Shortage

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes revealed today that he doesn't have to study reports to his solid fuels office to learn that there's a growing shortage of coal.

He told reporters wistfully today that although he's the boss of the government-operated coal mines, he hasn't been able to get delivery on some anthracite he ordered more than a month ago for his poultry farm at nearby Olney, Md.

Allotment Of Gasoline For East Is Low

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—Hope of relieving civilian gasoline rationing curbs on the east coast this summer apparently were dashed today by action of Secretary Ickes, as petroleum administrator, in allotting a scant 328,000 barrels daily for civilian use through July, August and September.

Ickes said he was fully aware that the allotment "must necessarily result in considerable inconvenience to millions of people" and (Turn to Page Eleven)

Probe Of Oil Policy Coming

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—With Navy Secretary Knox signifying complete agreement with the procedure, the house naval committee decided today to order a full investigation into the navy's oil policy in general and that department's now abrogated Elk Hills contract in particular.

The house public lands committee already is investigating the Elk Hills matter.

The naval committee acted after Knox appeared before it to explain the contract which he concluded with Standard Oil of California for joint development of the rich Elk Hills reserve, and which he subsequently cancelled when the justice department ruled it "illegal and invalid."

Knox told the naval committee members that the nation faced a shortage of vital crude oil, with the likelihood that it would become serious late this year "and most certainly next year."

Roosevelt Warns Union He Will Not Accept Deadline

Chief Executive Informs Press He Is Merely Trying To See Coal Is Mined and Will Not Recognize Decision

WLB APPEALS TO BYRNES TO ENFORCE ORDER

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—Approximately 30 top-ranking executives of major coal mining interests met behind closed doors today with Secretary Ickes, who called them here preliminary to strengthening his control over management of the nation's mines in the expectation he would operate them for a "considerable period."

With few exceptions, the mine interests were represented by company presidents, whom Ickes had summoned with the notation that "proxies or substitutes are not expected."

Ickes opened the meeting with a "brief statement," aides reported, then withdrew so the private mine operators, at their request, could caucus to "discuss what the secretary said."

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would not recognize or accept an October 31 deadline set by the United Mine Workers for continued coal production in government-operated mines.

The chief executive told a press conference he was merely trying to see that coal was mined and that this had to be done some way. He added that many of us get away from the fact we are at war and the life of a nation is very much at stake.

Meanwhile the War Labor Board (WLB) went to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes with a stern request that the government compel the United Mine Workers to comply fully with the board's order or that punishment be imposed.

Board members told Byrnes that the country's largest corporations, U. S. Steel (in the federal shipbuilding case) and General Motors, complied with WLB orders, however reluctantly, but that in the coal case only the operators have been penalized. Their mines have been seized, although they are ready to obey the WLB.

Full compliance would mean the signing of a two-year contract containing a pledge not to strike for the duration of the war. The contract handed down by the board would permit reopening of the wage clauses in the interim, but (Turn to Page Eleven)

Drafting Of Nation's Dads Is Uncertain

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—Despite public and congressional pressure, don't expect the official cards to be laid on the table any time soon as far as drafting the nation's pre-Pearl Harbor fathers is concerned.

That was the comment today of D. C. Speaker, unofficial but well informed capital news source, who noted the demand of the house military committee that the country's dads be relieved of their uncertainty.

"Of course, I'm no official," said D. C., mythical District of Columbia observer who represents authentic but unnotable sources, "but personally, I stand by my prediction last week that, barring a major military upset, the general drafting of fathers will be postponed again and again—perhaps indefinitely."

However, he continued, the officials themselves are not likely to make any such predictions—one way or the other.

"In the first place," Speaker explained, "most of the demands have been aimed at selective service director Hershey, and, despite his authoritative position, his hands are tied."

He stressed that Hershey is answerable to the army and navy, and that their attitude on the subject is one of traditional reticence, for a number of reasons.

Move on to Have Repealed the "Pay-as-You-Don't-Go" Tax

BY FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, June 25.—(AP)—Senator Mead (D-NY) today labeled the annual $5 use tax on automobiles a "pay-as-you-don't-go plan," at least for eastern motorists, and said he would ask the treasury to withhold enforcement until congress decides whether the levy should be repealed.

The new strikers are supposed to be on the windshields of all cars and trucks operated after next Wednesday, but the postal employees entrusted with their sale have decided that the only way to start them moving would be to ration them, like shoes. In other words, business has not been good.

Several eastern lawmakers agreed with Mead that taxation without transportation is going to be pretty hard to explain to their foot weary constituents. The value of gasoline ration coupons is smaller in the east than in other parts of the country, and in the seaboard states from Virginia north all pleasure driving is forbidden.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) said he had received complaints from a number of drivers and would support a repeal move, but Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) said he would vote to keep the tax in effect.

Revolt of Thousands of Hard and Soft Coal Diggers Continues Today

OFFICIALS CONFIDENT

Pittsburgh, June 25.—(AP)—The revolt of thousands of hard and soft coal miners against the back-to-work order of their union's policy committee headed by John L. Lewis continued today, with district officials of the United Mine Workers promising normal operations "about next Monday."

A survey disclosed approximately 60 per cent of the 521,000 coal diggers and loaders remained out yesterday, the first day after they received the work order. Reports from last night's shifts, in Pennsylvania fields at least, indicated little material change in this average absenteeism.

Little could be learned immediately of the effect of the latest statement by the War Labor Board, indicating it considered the coal case now merely one in which the union should obey its decision of last June 18 and sign the contract the WLB dictated. Few of the miners knew of this development until today.

The eastern Pennsylvania anthracite region reported that 6,500 men in the Shenandoah area who worked yesterday voted to stay out (Turn to Page Eleven)

Major Mines In Anthracite Region Idle

Wilkes-Barre, June 25.—(AP)—All 30 major mines in the United Mine Workers District 9 and at least five in District 1 halted operations today as approximately 11,000 more workers joined a revolt in the anthracite field against a back-to-work order of the UMW's national policy committee.

The action swelled the number idle to approximately two-thirds of the 83,000 men employed in the industry.

Complete shutdown of major operations in District 9 resulted from a "holiday" voted by the Shenandoah Central Labor Union at a meeting last night at which one delegate shouted: "Let's prove we won't be led around by the nose by John L. Lewis."

Some small mines in the district were working, but an effort was being made to induce their employees to walk out also.

The new walkouts came on the heels of a plea by the Anthracite Coal Negotiating Committee at New York for "complete resumption of anthracite operations"

Italy Due For Attacks Such As No Country Ever Received

BY JOHN F. CHESTER

Boston, June 25.—(AP)—A prediction that American and British airmen will give Italy "a hammering such as no country has ever received before" came today from Edward Kennedy, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, after a tour of war coverage unparalleled in the Middle Eastern and North African theaters.

Kennedy, sun-tanned, lean and hardened, is the only newspaperman who covered the Middle Eastern and North African wars from the time the first shot was fired by Italy in 1940 until the last German surrendered after Tunis and Algiers fell. He gave his views after returning on his first vacation since before the war.

"Conditions are perfect for giving the Italians a terrific pasting from the air," he said. "The skies are so blue, with few clouds and no fog, that the amazing American bombing is operating with uncanny accuracy. Distances are short, enemy resistance is light and Allied casualties are comparatively few. The United States air forces already have done a job of bombing that has been unequalled in this war."

"In my opinion, the African campaign was not a second front. It was a first front, for it kept the Mediterranean open, exposed the Axis' Achilles heel—Italy—to attack, and established a shelf of aggression 2,500 miles long from which a death blow can be launched at the Axis. A large, well-trained force is ready and they have terrific supplies."

REUNION CANCELLED

According to announcement made by the secretary, Bertha King, the Elsie Thompson family reunion has been cancelled for the duration.

PAYMENTS GO DOWN

Payments for direct relief to the needy folk of the county dropped $6 last week from the previous week. Payments last week were $137.

USE NOT LEGAL

Gasoline acquired before rationing commenced cannot be used for the operation of pleasure boats, for driving out to fish or other non-essential purposes the Erie office of the OPA stated yesterday.

FUEL OIL USERS

Fuel oil users for domestic purposes on applications of Form R1167 are asked to sign their name on the line under No. 4 or the application will have to be returned, a notice from the Ration Board said today.

ROSES IN BLOOM

The roses along the river bank are now in full bloom and the walk from the business section to the Pennsylvania station is now most beautiful. The park commission has the grass on the lawn at the top of the bank nicely trimmed with the beautiful blooms of the roses the picture is a pleasing one.

ENGINE FAILED

Train 8970 eastbound to Emporium and the east had to be derailed via Olean this morning due to the failure of a pusher engine on an ore train east of Kane. Passengers and mail for points between Warren and Emporium were unloaded here and forwarded by bus.

NURSE WILL SPEAK

Miss Mildred Van Sickle, R. N. of Warren State Hospital, will be guest speaker for the Monday luncheon-meeting of Rotary Club to be held in the regular meeting room in the YWCA activities building. Her topic will deal with the current problem of obtaining nurses and plans for a recruiting program.

TO OPEN BIDS

At the next meeting of the Town Council bids will be opened for work on the superstructure of the new fourth ward fire station. Fast time can be made by contractors as the structure is one story of cinder block. Plumbing, electric installation and other bids will be opened at the same time. The foundation is now about completed.

ABOUT RAZOR BLADES

For the information of persons who have inquired recently regarding the disposition of used razor blades the Salvage Committee suggests that they be wrapped up in the scrap boxes that are distributed about the borough. No special arrangements are contemplated in regard to a special collection of blades.

PRESSURE COOKERS

The increased demand for pressure cookers for home canning has resulted in the placing of the rationing of the cookers in the hands of the County Farm Rationing Committee at 225 Pennsylvania avenue, for this county. Groups or individuals that plan extensive canning may secure application blanks there and from hardware stores. To pass on the eligibility of persons or groups for the limited number of cookers available the following advisory committee has been named: Miss Arlene Schure, Mrs. Bracket Ayres and Mrs. K. E. Abel, all of Warren.

MEETING A SUCCESS

Another in the series of meetings for men about to enter the U. S. service was held at the YMCA last evening with 45 men in attendance. This was the largest number ever to attend such a meeting. Secretary Wagner presided and the address was given by Dr. Arnold Kippen, of the State Hospital staff. Rev. H. A. Rinard of the State Hospital staff, in the discussion of the questions and answers. This was informal and highly enjoyed. Lunch was served through the generosity of the Warren Lodge of Elks. A group of the men who were at the pre-induction meeting last evening went to Erie this morning for examination.

THOSE A CARDS

The ration boards have been trying to straighten out some confusion that has arisen in the minds of gasoline users as to the expiration date of their A ration books. A diagram has appeared in a number of Pennsylvania newspapers showing how to fill out a form to get the new A book and in some cases the wording said that the books expire in July. As a matter of fact they expire in July only in those parts of the country which are outside the gasoline shortage zone. In the Warren region Coupons No. 6 in the A book become valid on July 22 and must last until November 21. So unless the OPA relaxes gasoline restrictions in this area, A books will be good here until the latter part of November. Applications for A books will be made before that time but the Ration Board has not received instructions telling when or how.

NURSERY BUSINESS GROWS

Reports of the State Bureau of plant industry show that the nursery business in this state is growing by leaps and bounds as the demand for young trees and ornamental shrubs increases. In 1925 there were only 207 nurseries in the state and now they number 1,039. In 1925 Warren county had no nurseries in operation and in 1942 there were 11. Susquehanna, Forest and Montour counties are the only ones in the state where there are no nurseries.

THANKED FOR KNIFE

B. H. Joy, Prospect street, has received a letter from Serg. C. R. Gilbert, in the U. S. service, thanking him for a knife sent by Mr. Joy to the soldiers. The knife was one of the large number given by sportsmen of this section and forwarded by Don Finley's Sporting Goods Store. Mr. Joy placed his name and address on one of the knives he gave and the letter shows that it got to the place where it will do the most good.

BOYS WERE PAROLED

A group of small boys with their parents were at the Court House yesterday. The boys had taken a quantity of fire crackers from John Reiff, of near Rogertown and had been rounded up by the State Police, Judge Allison Wade gave the boys a severe lecture and paroled them to the custody of their parents but they must report each Saturday to the State Police.

Points On Point Rationing

CHERRY desserts fit smoothly into summer menus.

However, one uses the raw product, there is the difficulty of pitting, which requires more time than the average housekeeper has to devote to such a job. On the other hand, one can use pitted red sour cherries can be stretched into services for ten people or more by use of a cleverly worked out recipe.

From the kitchen of the American Can Company comes the following recipe, which is recommended by Miss Isabel Young, director of the company's home economics division, as one that will please the whole family.

Cherry Layer Bars
 1/2 cup Shortening 1/4 cup Flour
 1/2 cup Sugar 1/4 teaspoon Salt
 1/2 cup quick 1/4 teaspoon Soda
 Oatsmeal 1/2 cup Cherry Filling

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly; add oatmeal and sifted dry ingredients. Mix until crumbly. Press 1/2 the mixture in a wax paper-lined 8 x 8 pan. Spread with cherry filling. Add remaining oatmeal mixture and pat smooth. Bake in a moderate oven at 350° F. for 30 minutes. Cut in squares while warm. Makes about 20 squares.

Cherry Filling
 1/2 No. 1 can 1 1/2 tablespoons
 Pitted Red 1/2 cup Sugar
 Sour Cherries 1/2 cup Sugar
 Drain cherries; measure 1/2 cup juice. Make a smooth paste of flour and 1/2 cup cherry juice. Add to remaining cherry juice; mix well and heat. Chop cherries; add to juice. Add sugar and cook until thick, about the consistency of jam, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and cool.

LOSER TAKE ALL

Chapter 16
 ANN standing on the terrace with Jerry, and determined to amuse him long enough for Gibbs to search his room, found it difficult to act casual.

"You want to apologize?" Jerry asked in answer to her.

Apologize nothing, she thought swiftly, but prayed he'd catch only humbleness in her words.

"Yes, you see . . . I guess I didn't really think you hoped I'd be slugged."

"You were frightened, weren't you?"

She let herself laugh, a light, tinkling laugh that was completely feminine. "I'm not used to being followed by tall dark men. I had visions of all the lurid murders I'd ever read."

"You're not just saying that," he returned. "Anything could have happened."

"Anything did. It turned out to be you."

"You weren't too happy to see me."

Price Increase In Crude To Help Declining Production Urged By Bradford Refiner

Pittsburgh, June 25.—(P)—Ralph T. Zook, president of the Sloan & Zook Company of Bradford, asked today for a price increase of from 75 cents to $1 per barrel to help remedy declining crude oil production, which he said is rapidly becoming critical in the Pennsylvania grade oil industry.

"But price alone will not increase crude production," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at the Pennsylvania Crude Oil Association's annual meeting. "It could be posted at $10 a barrel but if it did not cause the incentive to go out and do things, the price would be without effect."

To boost production, he suggested (1) the bringing in of new pools and (2) increased production and recovery from present producing wells and proven oil productive acreage.

The successful conclusion of the war, the oil executive said, must come above everything else, and declared: "If Pennsylvania lubricants are required to win the war, it is the patriotic duty of every operator to produce every barrel of oil physically possible, even though it means the depletion of reserves previously planned to last a lifetime."

Zook said there was an estimated 6,000,000,000 barrels of oil now remaining in the sands of the Pennsylvania grade crude area—New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and southeastern Ohio—but warned that Pennsylvania grade crude production would be down to 50,000 barrels per day by 1945 unless the present downward trend is reversed.

"Industry as it is now constituted," he added, cannot function on that amount of oil.

Toward increasing current and future production of crude, he also suggested:

(a) "Continuance of the depletion schedule in the income tax law and the removal of the uncertainty by a flat statement from the treasury department that it will discontinue the fight for its removal."

(b) A "realistic approach" by the Office of Price Administration. "The oil industry," Zook said, cannot function under increased labor, material cost, and taxes while the national index for oil stands at 60 and gasoline at 88 when farm prices have risen to 106, food prices to 110, and metal prices to 103."

(c) The placing of all petroleum activities such as rationing, price, materials, drilling, and development regulations under the petroleum administration for war, Harold L. Ickes.

(d) A wildcatting program which will drill up to one hundred or more wells per year, to be wholly financed by producers and refiners who wish to participate.

She was acting the goon. This man was nothing to her. Perhaps the combination of moonlight and her pet perfume had gone to his head, was prompting him to say things he'd regret tomorrow. She ought to be able to retort. "Don't get romantic. I'm only here because I have an accomplice who's taking your room apart to find the will to a house you're stealing from me." She ought to laugh derisively, brittle enough to break the spell.

But she couldn't. She could only stand there with her heart in her throat and feel his arms go around her, see his head bend, know for one helpless, timeless minute that he was going to kiss her.

His lips, cool at first, seemed as startled as hers. Then they grew warm and eager and triumphant. He kissed her once and again and again and he murmured something about loving her.

It was the mention of love that restored her sense of time and place.

She pushed away, her pulses pounding, her cheeks hot with shame. She couldn't look at him, she couldn't speak. A little gasp escaped her lips. She wasn't sure whether it originated in her brain or in her heart. She knew only that she must get away quickly before he could discover her deceit.

For it was deceit. Over and over she told herself that his kisses were only a natural consequence of her open invitation for forgiveness.

What, then, of her own response? What of that swift, exultant rush of ecstasy with which she replied? What of the blood that rose to a fever in her veins?

To love and lose was one thing but to love and betray was quite another. A more horrible version of the same old story.

Though where the loving stopped and the betrayal began she couldn't have told. Inside the house she drew an unsteady breath, tried to seem

Heat Wave Swept Warren Past 24 Hours

Guess Old Probs must have lost the key to the thunder shower spigot as during the past few days he has conscientiously promised thunder showers in the west plains. But no thunder showers have arrived. And yesterday Old Sol got on the job with some of his best and most highly approved heat rays and how he did turn 'em on. Sunburns today were less than a dime a dozen and more Vitamin A was gathered up by Warren folks that Abe Martin in his palmist days was ever to sell over the drug counter.

And the mercury in the thermometers developed St. Vitus dance and went so fast it developed vertigo and the palsy. It just ranged around in the tubes like nobody's business and you could take your choice as to heat. The five and dime instruments had a little the best of it and showed over a 100, thus giving you more for your money. Some of the more aristocratic thermometers showed a 95, while the official boy says it was only about 90. Anyhow it looks like a beginner's golf score for six holes.

And last night. If that air raid test had been sounded in the middle of last night half the wardens would have to pour themselves out of bed and if any peepers had been round they would have been astounded at the number that slept. It was one of those hot, sticky nights that inspires one to read Alaskan and Arctic tales while they sipped their cool feed tea or what have you.

The barometers, too, had a heck of a time. They raced up and down until the hands on the things broke out in a sweat. They gave an inkling that the promised thunder storms were going to be delivered, and then shifted around to fair.

And in the meantime the corn fairly leaped from the ground and the spring onions took on added strength and odor.

It really was a hot day—and how!

Chapter 17

"YOU'LL have to blame me for this," Ann said to the little group gathered in Mr. Baxton's office. "I'm responsible for Gibbs being on the third floor."

"No she ain't," Gibbs denied stoutly.

"I don't know why you'd want to protect this man," Mr. Baxton's pudgy lips grew tight with disgust. "He was up to petty theft and that's enough for me. I won't have him on the place. Get out tonight, Gibbs."

"You can't fire him!" Ann tried to quiet the panic in her voice. "He . . . you see . . . he's essential."

How essential none of them suspected. If Gibbs left, the mineral spring would no longer operate. "Essential or not, he's fired," retorted the lawyer. "All right, Gibbs."

"But . . ." Ann drew a breath of courage. "you don't understand. I . . . I . . . detained Mr. Lane. She glanced at Jerry. The dawn of contempt in his eyes twisted her heart but she had to go on. "While Gibbs searched his room for me."

Like a jack in the box, Mr. Baxton jumped up. "Searched his room?" He shook a threatening fist in her face. "What did you want that's in his room?"

"I . . . I . . ." She clenched her hands because they shook. "I . . . I . . . a paper I wanted."

"What kind of paper?" Mr. Baxton was relentless. "All right, she'll tell them. 'I think he is withholding my grandmother's will!'"

"Will!" It was a chorus of gasps uttered simultaneously by Sarah and Mr. Baxton and Jerry.

to Jerry. "Well? Have you got the will?"

"Jerry kept his eyes on Ann. 'No,' he said."

Then you've destroyed it, Ann thought wildly, and no one can prove it.

"She's just making it up," Sarah cut in. "She wants to keep Gibbs here. I agree with Mr. Baxton. I wouldn't trust him even to cut the lawn."

Gibbs stood, his head bowed, turning his tattered hat round and round in his hands. When Sarah finished speaking he looked at her and said, "I ain't a-aimin' to give you no chance. I'm a-leavin' tonight."

Ann said, "No, Gibbs!" He didn't answer. She turned back to the three others. "I'll be responsible for his behavior from now on. I'll promise you he won't give you any more trouble. He's been here a long time. My grandmother . . ."

"Your alleged grandmother is dead," Mr. Baxton observed. "Lots of things are going to be changed. That right, Lane?"

"Yes," said Jerry's lips but his eyes spoke to Ann. They said, "So it was all a game with you three on the terrace. A kissing game!" The last drop of hope drained from Ann's heart. Then Jerry's glance added, "I hate a cheat."

SHAKEN, defeated, ashamed, she walked slowly from the room. When she found Gibbs was not waiting in the hall as she supposed he would she quickened her steps, hurried out the front door.

Outside in the dark she could still distinguish his outline among the trees. She ran, calling his name. "Gibbs! Gibbs! Wait!"

"You can't leave," she gasped. "No matter what they say you can't leave. There's nobody to run the heating plant. They'd find out about it. Everything would be ruined!"

"It's 'bout ruined now," he said impatiently. "Oh, I'm so sorry, Gibbs. I got you into this. I tried to make them understand but they were looking for an excuse to fire you. They think you're friendly to me and they don't want you here."

"No'm."

"But you have to stay. You hide out in the cave and I'll bring you food. If we don't find the will soon then we'll both give up. We'll give it up together, Gibbs. But not now. Not yet!"

"Miss Gussie was always good to me," he conceded.

"And you won't let her down, Gibbs. In spite of what Mr. Baxton and Sarah say, you won't let her down, will you?"

"No'm. I reckon I ain't a-aimin' to go off. Sarah just got my fur up."

So Gibbs stayed on in the cave and Ann confided her food problem to Flora whom she knew she could trust.

SHE could. The next morning Flora waited until the cook was out of the kitchen. Then she packed a generous basket and brought it to Ann.

When Ann reached the cave she found Gibbs upset.

"It's peculiar," the old man said, shaking his head. "I'd a-swore I heard somebody pokin' round here last night."

"Clear in it I'd say. It sure was queer."

You think somebody suspects our secret?"

"I ain't for knowin', Miss Ann. 'Hit bothers me."

"Maybe it was an accident," she suggested. "We won't worry about it unless they come back."

But she did worry. It was possible that someone might suspect there was more than sentiment connected with her desire to keep Gibbs, that he was of use to her in a manner this person would like to understand. Though he didn't know yet about the heater his natural curiosity might lead him to discover it.

Again she realized she was working against time and that time was uncomfortably swift.

FALSE OPTIMISM FOR EXTRA GAS

Local motorists who have been engaging in some wishful thinking in regard to possible lessening of the ban against pleasure driving, will find little solace in an article in an exchange which says that a warning against "false optimism" regarding the possibilities of early relief from the restrictions on transportation in the northeastern gasoline shortage area was voiced by Thomas H. Nicholl, associate director of the division of local transport, in an address before the New York State Motorbus Association at the Hotel Statler in Buffalo recently. He said there was "no room for optimism as far as the immediate gasoline shortage situation is concerned."

While the ODT's division of petroleum transportation expects that within a few weeks the overland movement of petroleum products to the east coast will top all records, Mr. Nicholl said that did not mean more gasoline would be available for motor vehicles, because the demands of the military for gasoline "are certainly not going to diminish in the months ahead, and there is every reason to believe that these demands of the military will increase much greater than they are at present."

Not only will there be no early relief from the present restrictions on the operation of commercial motor vehicles, he insists, but "if there is a change at all, it will be in the direction of further reduction in mileage."

In the meantime, because of the utter failure of a sizable body of eastern motorists to cooperate in saving gasoline to win the war, OPA agents are continuing to cite scores of drivers in this area for violations of the pleasure driving ban.

The desperate straits to which the east is reduced—the probability of spreading the pleasure driving ban to Ohio, then to the Carolinas, and perhaps to Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas—is due in part to the fact that when OPA Administrator Brown tried the honor system, he found too little honor.

Mr. Brown has been criticized severely and justly for his unrealistic attempts to please everybody, particularly the politicians.

Now he discovers what his predecessor, Leon Henderson, knew: that total war is a very unpleasant business, which requires sacrifices; that while the majority will respond to appeals, a large minority is selfish and self-centered, and has to be whipped into line.

In a limited way, Mr. Brown has been forced to get tough. He deserves support from good citizens, not snide criticism.

"I WILL DO MY PART"

A local business man who attended an important conference in Buffalo this week, was impressed by the message printed upon cards distributed to those in attendance. Under the caption "I Will Do My Part," written by Mona Kene West, an American mother whose son is with the armed forces, it is reprinted here for the benefit of Times-Mirror readers who may not have had an opportunity to see it before:

Starting right now—I will live my life to save a man. All my waking hours I will work for the safety of this man. I need not say to anyone who the man is. It may be a friend or father, husband, brother or son. All that matters is, I shall see him before me as I work. I shall put forth all my effort, as if the life of this man depended on me, alone. As if I alone could put into his hands the weapons to save the world. As if I alone made the ships, guns, tanks and airplanes he needs. Before I sleep at night, I will look deep into my own conscience to see if any greedy or selfish act of mine has hampered him. This man—who may be fighting in jungles or drowning in icy seas. This man who is giving his time, his health, his very life for me. This man's counting on me—alone. To this end will I work. I shall not let him down.

The Early Diagnosis Campaign being held this month by the Warren County Tuberculosis Society is financed by part of the Christmas Seal Fund.

News that OPA agents have been operating in and around Warren sure has driven a lot of automobiles off the streets.

By JOHN GROVER

WASHINGTON—Pros and cons of the food subsidy program have split official Washington and Congress down the middle like a fried chicken.

Objective observers say the question offers a choice between two evils: (1) runaway inflation; (2) curtailed farm production.

The theory behind subsidies is simple. The government has imposed retail price ceilings. Farmer A calculates he can't sell his beans for less than, say, 10 cents a pound and pay growing costs. Canner B can't pay 10 cents a pound, plus increased labor costs, and stay in business. The price at which he'd have to sell to allow himself a profit, and the jobber, wholesaler and retailer a profit, would push the retail price above the allowed ceiling.

Fair Profit
So the government steps in and buys the beans from Farmer A at 10 cents, and then turns around and sells them to Canner B at 7 cents a pound. That lets the distributive agencies make a fair profit, and the consumer isn't knifed in the pocketbook.

The loss occasioned by 10-cent purchase and 7-cent resale is paid out of federal funds. That's a subsidy.

From the beginning of price control, subsidies were advanced as the best control measure. They were shelved first because Leon Henderson advocated subsidies, and Henderson got in bad with Congress. Jesse Jones, more popular in Capitol Hill, was then tentatively given the administration's subsidy bill—but the farm bloc still wouldn't agree to subsidies, and they were shelved again.

Coal Strike Effort
The coal strike really resurrected subsidies. John L. Lewis hit a chord every grocery buyer understood when he harped on food price increases as justification for wage increases. Subsidies were dusted off to raise back prices and steel Lewis' thunder.

Organized labor enthusiastically supported subsidies. The farm bloc, particularly southern elements, howled opposition. That is the basic schism over subsidies—the farm bloc versus the labor bloc, country versus city.

The farm bloc argues that wages have risen faster than farm prices. (Federal figures do show that wage earners spend less of every dollar for food than in the last war.) They argue for letting farm prices go up, at least to match wage boosts already granted. They want the higher prices now, not a subsidy stopgap that will disappear with war's end.

There's a special explanation for the vehemence of Southern opposition. The subsidies so far apply only to food. Food crops aren't Southern mainstays as are tobacco, cotton and industrial farm produce. The South won't benefit so much under a food subsidy program.

Economists' View
There are economists of standing on both sides of the subsidy fence. Pro argue that subsidies actually are cheaper than any other controls. They say that a 2-cent meat subsidy at the source means a 3-to-4 cent saving at retail, through lower profit percentages added along the distributive line.

They hold subsidies, paid from federal funds, are more equitable because federal funds derive from taxes based on ability to pay.

Anti-subsidy economists say food subsidies are only a beginning, that once they are assured, pressure groups will begin agitating for subsidies on furniture, clothing, rent and other living cost factors. They foresee a terrific national debt increase, in addition to the cost of armaments, if the subsidy principle once gets a foot in the door.

Cost Of Administration
The anti-subsidy discount the argument that subsidies are cheaper. Costs of administration, they say, would eat up initial savings. Finally, they say the limited benefits of subsidy will not be enough to assure full production by disgruntled farmers.

Middle-grounders expect some production loss under subsidies as opposed to a "free" market, but see the matching gain of a controlled price structure, free from the threat of an inflation spiral. That's the subsidy picture. Some political analysts profess to see the administration's support of subsidies as a move calculated to win urban grocery-buying support in the 1944 election, holding them a surer bet than farm elements who took some healthy swings at the New Deal last year at the polls.

Based on the preliminary line-up of vocal congressmen, it's essentially a split between produce-selling country and grocery-buying city groups, the farm bloc versus the labor bloc, with the farm bloc charging the administration with supporting the city against the country.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Harry (Pop) Sherman is a man who believes that westerns are here to stay.

And Hollywood believes that as long as there are westerns to be made, he'll be turning out the kind of movie which has been labeled hooey-opea.

But you call 'em hooey-opeas in front of Pop and you'll get a dissertation on the dignity of the movies' great old West. He'll stammer, a vigorous white-haired fellow whose blue eyes twinkle clear and sharp in his sun-redened face, and give you the lowdown with emphasis. He's a man who loves his work, which is producing the Hopalong Cassidy films and other more tentative epics of the open spaces.

"The westerns," he says, "have always been the backbone of this business, and they always will be."

WE are on the big street set of Sherman's "The Gunmaster." It's a recreation of the main drag of old Dodge City, Kas., complete with saloons, dance halls, general stores, barber shop, jail and all the other structures of the time. A few years back Errol Flynn cleaned up the town for Warner Bros., and Sherman now has Albert Dekker, in the role of Bat Masterson, cleaning out a different set of crooks in a story taken from history. Tall, handsome Barry Sullivan is the villain, and blonde Claire Trevor is the lady in the case.

Pop looks around with us: the street is full of old cowhands, beards, "characters" from the pioneer days. It's a bustling town, even when the camera isn't on it.

"When," Pop asks us, "has any star outside of westerns made the money Tom Mix and Bill Farnum did? Mix got $17,500 a week, 32 weeks a year. Bill Farnum got $10,000—52 weeks a year. You hear about your top male stars today—$250,000 a picture, $200,000 a picture and so on. But they don't touch Farnum and Mix."

"And why were those boys worth it? Because the companies used to be able to sell their whole output on the strength of the westerns. Exhibitors would buy the rest to get Mix, for instance."

"WESTERNS don't lose money. I've made them for 3 years and I've never lost. The only one I ever heard of losing was 'Arizona'—and the only reason it lost was that it cost too much. Two millions, and even so they got back a million and a half."

"I've just come back from a little town in Wyoming. Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour had brought the exhibitor there $36. One of my Hoppies followed, and brought in $326. Doesn't that tell a story?"

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923
Operations in the Tidoute gusher field are slowing down and the wells that have been shot during the past ten days have all been small ones.

E. O. Carlson, who lives on the Jo Jo road near Kane had the pleasure of seeing a full grown female elk grazing on his fields. Carlson and his wife at first thought the animal was an old horse but a second look disclosed it to be an elk.

E. A. Babcock, of Clarendon while fishing in the Farnsworth yesterday hooked into a brown trout that is the daddy of them all to date. The fish weighed three and one half pounds.

Vasa Lodge Degree team has received new costumes and they are among the finest sported by any team in the city. They are loaded with gold braid, plenty of jewels and are highly attractive.

Through the courtesy of the R. W. Norris Company the camp of the CCC at Hearts Content has been lighted with electricity. The plant is not as large as its really needed but as yet no installation has been ordered by the government.

The Sheffield Woman's Club held their annual picnic yesterday in Wild Cat Park. There was a good attendance and the affair was a happy one with good entertainment and a fine lunch served.

The state today made public the allocation of each political division's share of the gasoline tax. Warren county is to receive $11,458.22 as its share.

Miss Florence Farrell, of Kinzua is leaving soon for Lock Haven where she will take a summer course at the Normal School there.

Friday the members of the Kiwanis Club will visit the CCC forest camp on Friday of this week. Lunch will be served and a general good time is anticipated.

Information About "Pay-as-go-Tax"

Q. Is the withholding tax an additional tax?

A. No. The withholding tax is merely an easier way of paying your regular annual income tax on a pre-payment pay-as-you-go basis.

Q. I am a married man with one child and am now putting 10 per cent of my pay in war bonds and 5 per cent, after subtracting withholding exemption, for the Victory tax. How can I pay the additional twenty-percent withholding tax on top of that fifteen percent and still have enough to live on?

A. In the first place your twenty-percent withholding tax includes your Victory tax. If you are married and have one child, your exemptions will bring your tax down to approximately 8 percent. For instance, if your salary or wage is $50 per week, your withholding tax will be approximately $4 per week, and instead of paying an annual income tax of approximately $212 in a lump sum, you are paying it at the rate of $4 weekly.

Q. Suppose when I make my return next March I find my employer has withheld more than enough money to cover my tax. Will the excess be refunded to me?

A. It will either be refunded to you or credited against other income taxes due from you.

Q. Suppose my employer withholds tax from my wages, but does not turn it over to the Government. What protection have I?

A. The employer is liable for the payment of the tax and must furnish the employee with a written statement showing the amount of tax deducted. Penalties are imposed upon employers for failure to make and file returns or pay the tax within the time prescribed by law. The employee is amply protected.

Q. Do I have to wait until the end of January to know how much of wages by employer holds out?

A. Yes, for the official notice or receipt unless your services with your employer are terminated before the end of the calendar year.

Q. What happens if the receipt the employer gives me gets lost or destroyed?

A. You should make application to your employer for a copy of the receipt.

Q. Does it make any difference if I change jobs several times during the year?

A. No. Each employer is required to withhold the tax from wage payments made to you.

REAR LINE STRATEGY

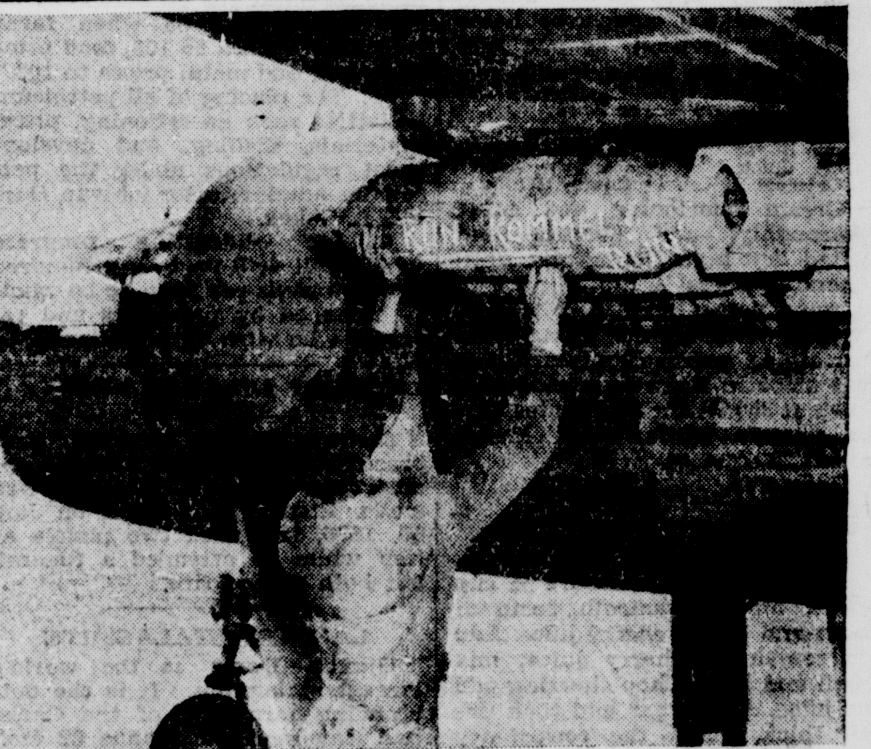

"EASY does it," says Mrs. Mike Tackett, directing maneuvers for Corporal Tackett as son Larry keeps a wary eye on papa's tactics. Home life has been made possible for Corporal Tackett, other soldiers and their families through a novel project sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. at the USO Club in Highland Park, Ill., near Fort Sheridan, called the Service Men's Mother's Club. This Mother's Club is typical of the clever and practical activities for helping service men's families in USO Clubs throughout the country.

When adequate housing facilities for the service men in training at the Fort became scarce many soldiers turned to the USO for help. Their theme song became "My Kingdom for a House!" The answer to this dilemma came when Mrs. Edgar Jenkins, president of the Service Men's Mother's Club, mothered an invention. In one month this club discovered, rented and furnished with donations from the public, an eight-room house. Since October this house has become home to soldiers and their families who are renters until Uncle Sam sends them on their way again. One of the prerequisites to tenancy is an offspring or one on the way. Such liberal regulations bespeak the generosity of the Service Men's Mother's Club, for Army families know from bitter experience that sometimes landlords consider children "excess baggage." To hear that children are on the must list is music to their ears! The National Young Women's Christian Association, one of the six member agencies of USO, is especially interested in helping the wives and families of service men as well as the service men themselves. Other ways in which they are made to feel at home in a new community are through discussion groups ranging from child care, family relations, and music to world affairs, and through classes in cooking, sewing, home nursing and handicrafts.

WHAT HAPPENED TO FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

After seven weeks of intensive work, laboratory researchers have discovered the reason why certain batches of Fletcher's Castoria caused nausea.

Methods of preventing a recurrence of the trouble are now known and manufacture is being resumed.

No Fletcher's Castoria has been made during this seven-week period, and at its beginning the makers issued a nationwide warning to consumers and retailers not to use or sell the product and to return all stocks for destruction.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has been kept informed of all these developments.

Q. What caused the trouble?

A. The sugar content of Fletcher's Castoria was reduced to conserve sugar under wartime conditions. A year ago, Castoria was made with this reduced sugar content and was up to standard in every respect. This year, in March, we again started production with reduced sugar.

However, at that time a chemical change—harmless in itself—occurred in the characteristics of the water used in making Castoria. But this change, in combination with the reduced sugar, increased the degree and rate of normal fermentation. The more rapid fermentation retarded normal re-oxidation during the ageing process, resulting in a product which caused nausea.

Q. Why didn't normal tests show that something was wrong?

A. The changes which occurred were so elusive that they could not be detected by the regular testing procedures—procedures which had kept Castoria a respected product for more than seventy-five years. In fact, even after the nauseating effect was discovered in actual use, it took weeks of laboratory research to identify the factors that were causing the trouble.

Q. What are the makers doing to prevent a recurrence of the trouble?

A. Now that the cause is known, procedures have been put in effect which will assure normal re-oxidation of the product. Additional safeguards have been set up. New laboratory controls have been installed. New biological and chemical tests will be applied to every batch of Fletcher's Castoria. Each bottle will be stamped with a plainly visible control number, in verification of these tests.

Q. Is Fletcher's Castoria now on sale?

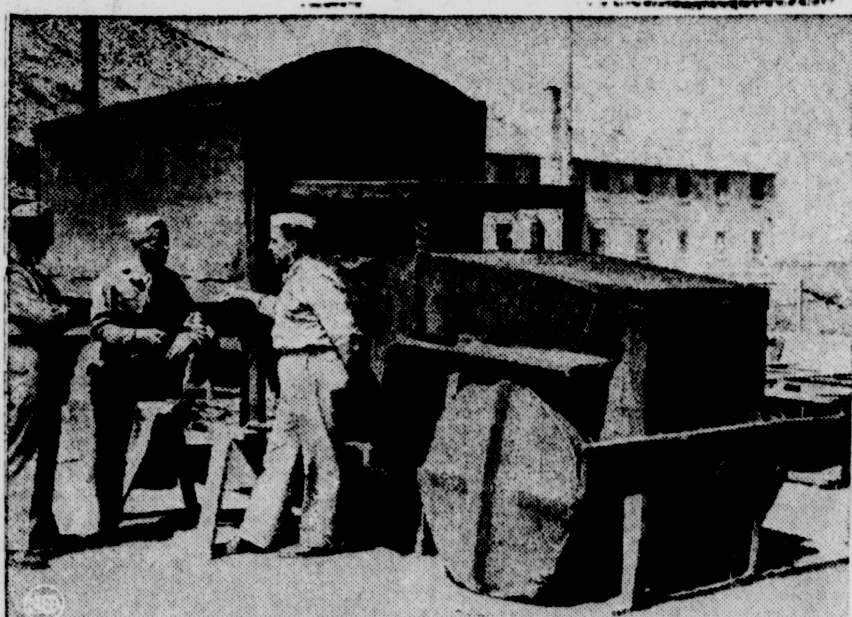

A. No. Manufacture has been resumed, but because of the time required for manufacture and distribution it may be about two months before Castoria will again be on sale at your retailer's. When it is, you will be notified in your local newspaper.

Q. Will the package be the same?

A. No. The Fletcher's Castoria now being made will bear a distinctive green band. This green band is for your protection in case any old Castoria has not been returned.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Pvt. Burdette Phillips has returned to his station at Greensboro, N. C., after spending the past weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Phillips, of North Warren.

Pvt. William R. Grove, USMC, has reported to his new base at Cherry Point, N. C., after a ten-day furlough with his wife and mother. His wife accompanied him as far as Washington, D. C.

Pfc. Edmund R. Wolfe writes that he completed his basic army air force training at Miami Beach, Fla., about three weeks ago and is now located at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland for an ordnance school course on aircraft ammunition. Upon completion of this course he will be given a corporal's rating and sent to one of the various air bases as an ammunition clerk or field instructor. Formerly of Sheffield, Pfc. Wolfe lived in and around Warren for two years before being called into the army.

Richard W. Kifer, seaman second class, who received his apprentice seaman training at Sampson, N. Y., has been transferred to Portsmouth, Va., where he has entered the Norfolk Naval Hospital for training as pharmacist's mate. Seaman Kifer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Kifer, 5 West street.

Pvt. Albert R. Johnson, here on furlough from Camp Adair, Ore., is the son of J. A. Johnson, 1512 North Carver street, who is not ill as was previously stated in these columns.

Paul Campbell, seaman first class, has returned to Camp Enid, L. I., after spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Campbell, Clarendon Heights.

Police Save Baby Locked In Automobile

Thoughtlessness on the part of a young mother yesterday could easily have cost a baby its life. The mother drove down town on a shopping expedition and parked her automobile in a parking lot near the Loblaw store. Windows on the car were closed and the mother locked the door. Under the sun's rays the heat in the car rose to a high point. Some one noted the fact that the baby was suffering and gasping for air and summoned an officer. The policeman and others got the car open and took the baby into a store out of the sun and gave it first aid and it soon recovered from the ill effects of the heat. A notation on the police blotter says "I gave the mother a talking to relative to such a practice."

A mother was removed from near Schanz street and Pennsylvania avenue last night and the woman making the report said the man disappeared back of the houses on Schanz street. The police made a quick trip and searched the area but found no one.

One drunk was locked up during the early morning hours after his wife reported that he had thrown her out of the house. A drunk and disorderly charge was placed against the fellow.

A five-year-old Fourth avenue lad walked away on adventures yesterday afternoon. In his explorations he made his way to the South Side where he was found about 7 o'clock after the police had made search for him at the request of his mother.

A truck laden with nitro-glycerine was escorted through town on its way up Page Hollow where a well was shot and the coppers turned in a $2 check for nursing the dangerous load through the city as required by ordinance.

Dogs and chickens also gave the police some anxious moments and a 14-year-old boy badly beaten by another lad had to be given attention. It was a busy day for the police despite the heat.

Obituary

MARY LEWIS MACGOWAN
(Special correspondence from Quincy, Fla.)

Mary Lewis MacGowan, beloved resident of Quincy since 1915, died Monday June 21, at the Gadsden County Hospital after a brief illness. She was eighty-four years old.

Mrs. MacGowan was the widow of W. L. MacGowan, who before his death in 1928, was vice president and general manager of the Florida Company here. She was born in Fredonia, N. Y., in 1859, the daughter of George Washington and Eliza Wheelock Lewis. She was educated in New York state, being a member of the first graduating class of the Fredonia (N.Y.) Normal College. Mrs. MacGowan taught school in Elmira, N. Y., and Smithport, Pa., and in 1887 married William Leroy MacGowan and went to live in Olean, N. Y. A year or two later, the family removed to Warren, Pa., where for 18 years Mr. MacGowan was superintendent of the city schools. In 1915 the family came to make their home in Quincy.

For twenty-eight years Mrs. MacGowan has been organist of St. Paul's Episcopal church. She has been constant in her interest in all charitable and civic projects, and numbered many people in all walks of life as her devoted friends. To scores of her friends she was known affectionately as "Mother May."

Mrs. MacGowan's family stems from interesting old pioneer stock, the branch in America going back to one Dr. Samuel Fuller, physician of the Mayflower company, and a member of the original Plymouth colony. Another ancestor, Ebenezer Wheelock, was the founder of Dartmouth College.

Mrs. MacGowan's great grandfather, feeling the urge to "go west" migrated to the then distant frontier of Western New York state in a wagon train, and later built the first two-story frame house in Buffalo, N. Y., at that time a settlement of rude log huts, huddled together against the frequent attack of hostile Indians.

Another branch of the family line included Captain Isaac Hull, commander of Old Ironsides. Mrs. MacGowan is survived by two sons, William Leroy MacGowan of Jacksonville and Kenneth A. MacGowan of Quincy, and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Lowell West of Tallahassee, and nine grandchildren; William, Bernard, Bradford Leroy and John Byrd MacGowan of Jacksonville; Arthur Alexander, Mary Jacqueline, Lawrence Christopher, and Richard Lowell West of Tallahassee; Mary Lou and Kenneth A. MacGowan, Jr., of Quincy.

The funeral services were conducted from St. Paul's Episcopal church, with the Reverend Nelson Gage officiating. The active pallbearers were: Messrs. J. D. Vrieze, J. L. Covington, H. E. Corry, Arthur Corry, D. M. Lafitte and F. L. May. The honorary pallbearers were: C. H. Curry, John S. Curry, Senator S. W. Anderson, N. B. Jordan, L. D. McMillan, P. C. Davis, Senator A. L. Wilson, J. A. McFarlin, H. M. Taylor, E. B. Blake and Ben Bostick. Interment was in the Eastern Cemetery.

EAST HICKORY

East Hickory, June 21—Church services have been held at the Methodist church for the past week, and will continue until Wednesday evening, perhaps longer. Sermons by Rev. H. Stevenson of Tidouche, have been of great interest. The Methodist choir of West Hickory have been assisting with the singing, and Sunday evening a duet by Miss Virginia Wright and Mrs. M. C. Howe with piano and organ, was appreciated.

A picnic party of the Ladies Aid members and friends enjoyed the day last Wednesday with Mrs. Florence Anderson at her home by the river. Mr. and Mrs. James Whitmore, are here at this time visiting at the home of his grandfather, F. M. Whitmore. James is employed at the Custom House in New York and is living at New Brighton, Staten Island.

Mr. King, joined his wife after remaining in Philadelphia after his wife arrived here, to make some final arrangements before they are settled here at the Whitmore home. Mr. King has been employed for thirty-five years with the City Police force, but is now retired and all their friends welcome them to this community where they expect to make their future home.

Mrs. H. A. Sinnegan is also a visitor at the Whitmore home, and will be joined soon by her husband, who will vacation here with other members of the family.

Also Mr. and Mrs. James Collins of Erie and Miss Mary Howe, who has been employed at Erie. Clyde Haslet, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Haslet has left for U. S. war service, after enlistment. The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet this Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Hitchcock at Endeavor.

Many Expected For Women's Club Event In Rockwell Gardens

Just when the weather gets the hottest each summer, the Women's Club always comes along with the perfect antidote, the annual garden party on the spacious lawns of Miss Anna G. Rockwell and her sister, Mrs. W. F. Henry.

This year, the event has been scheduled for Wednesday afternoon June 30, with tables for cards, a cup of tea and opportunity for all the good old fashioned visiting desired. There will be no rationing of sociability, according to the Entertainment Committee, and members are urged to make up parties for either the card tables or a friendly chat.

Those wishing to play cards are asked to make their table reservations with either Mrs. J. H. Goldstein, 434, or with Mrs. J. W. A. Luce, 1155.

Tickets for the party are available from members of the Entertainment Committee or may be had at the office of the club secretary, Mrs. Alta Chapel.

Social Events

ALLEN CLASS HOLDS AN INDOOR OUTING

Allen Class members of the First Methodist church enjoyed a "picnic and outing" last evening in the form of a dinner served in Founders Hall, summer flowers decorating the attractive dinner tables.

Following a short business session, devotions were conducted by Miss Frances O'Neill and the program was turned over to Mrs. A. J. Weiler, who required each member to "sing for her supper." A period of games followed.

On the committee for the event were Mrs. Steve Saylor, chairman; Mrs. Ira Brown, Mrs. Fred Schuler, Mrs. L. F. Morloch, Mrs. Harold Shuholm, Elizabeth Reed and Mrs. H. R. Henderson.

VIOLIN RECITAL AT CONSERVATORY

The violin recital presented in the Conservatory of Music concert hall by pupils of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Santoro was a distinct success. All of the young people played creditably, with consideration given the respective time of their studies, some having taken the instruction but a few months.

Those heard in the pleasing recital were Nick Geracimos, Bill Carlinio, Joyce Edinger, Chester Anderson, Jeanne Mathyer, Robert Brumagim, Joan Wendelboe, Nancy Maneval, Frances Groves and Eleanor King.

A pleasing interlude in the program was a group of piano numbers given by Frances Groves, student of Miss Lillian Larsen.

FIREMEN'S AUXILIARY IS HAVING FAREWELL

Russell, June 25—At the meeting of the Firemen's Auxiliary, held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Edquist by 11 members, it was decided to have a farewell party this evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. Clarence Jones to honor Mrs. Marie Gruber. Each one is asked to bring a tureen for the lunch.

Members also chose Mrs. Mae Benson and Mrs. Beulah Baxter as captains for a membership contest to continue for the next six months and close with a Christmas party given by the losers.

CHAUTAUQUA ORGANIST WILL GIVE RECITAL

A musical event that will interest many is announced today when it was made known that George Volkel, organist at Chautauqua Institution, will give a recital at Grace Methodist church on Friday evening, July 9. Mr. Volkel, well known in Warren, is organist and choirmaster at All Angels church in New York in the winter season and is an accomplished musician.

BRANCH RECITAL IS HELD AT KANE

Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell and Eugene Kuester, of the Warren Conservatory, presented their Kane students in an informal recital Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas L. Kane. The affair was largely attended by a representative audience which thoroughly enjoyed the instrumental and vocal offerings.

Jamestown Girl Is Bride of Local Man In Minnesota Rites

At three o'clock this afternoon in the First Lutheran church of St. James, Minn., Miss Jeannette Palmquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Palmquist, 175 Stowe street, will become the bride of Dr. E. R. Anderson, of Warren, son of Mrs. A. C. Anderson, of Montevideo, Minn.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. H. S. Strand, former schoolmate of the bridegroom, and Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Thompson, of Blue Earth, Minn., will be the attendants.

Dr. Anderson and his bride will return to Warren on July 23, to be at home to their friends at 103 Central avenue.

Methodist Group Is Given Fine Address

There was a good attendance Thursday afternoon for the meeting of First Methodist WSCS held in Founders Hall, when Mrs. Bruce Wright, of Kane, gave a fine talk on "Climate Makers." Her address dealt with the importance of creating the right atmosphere in groups.

Mrs. Everett Borg, accompanied by Meredith Young, sang two contralto solos, "Thank God for a Garden" by Barlow and "God Bless This House" by Taylor.

Mrs. R. D. Smedley, vice president, opened the meeting, Mrs. F. A. Lesser conducted devotions and Mrs. David Smith was in charge of the program, which closed with prayer by Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp.

Mrs. Wright told members that the indebtedness of the Ruth M. Smith Home at Sheffield had been decreased by one-third through contributions and that these may still be made. Local members may contact the church secretary, Miss Marie Gutzler, or their president, Mrs. E. S. Briggs.

On the tea committee for the day were Mrs. H. B. Bowersox, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Covert, Mrs. Gustaf Carlson, with Mrs. Kottcamp presiding at the tea table.

There will be no meeting of the unit in July but at the August session plans will be made for the convention to be held here in September.

Personal Paragraphs

Frank Mundt, of Grand Valley, employed on the J. E. Fleming oil lease received smashed fingers on his left hand when a pulley dropped from a height of 30 feet. The pulley weighed 25 pounds and narrowly missed striking Mundt on the head.

Merle Schaffer, of Akeley suffered an injury to one leg this morning while at work at the Struthers-Wells plant. A heavy electric drill being used got away and struck Schaffer on the leg. He was removed to the hospital where x-rays are being made to ascertain the extent of his hurts.

Miss Jeanne McGarry, 111 Mohawk avenue, has returned home after a vacation with friends in New York.

Mrs. Dan Houghwot, who is president of the Russell School Girls' Reunion group, announces that there will be no reunion this year because of the gasoline shortage and lack of bus transportation.

Warren County Bar membership was increased by one when District Attorney J. H. Goldstein presented the name of Samuel Bonavita, corporal in the United States Army, who recently passed his state bar exams.

Succeeding Henry Muntz as assessor of Conewango township is Everett Clark, appointed by Judge Allison D. Wade.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington, D. C., announces voluntary retirement as of June 30 of Major General Dawson Olmstead as chief signal officer of the U. S. Army. Immediately following his retirement as military representative, he will be detailed to active duty on the telecommunication board headed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Qualification Shoot To Be Staged Sunday

Another Army "E" qualification shoot is scheduled at one o'clock Sunday afternoon at the outdoor range of the Complanter Gun Club on Page Hollow road. All those completing basic training in the small arms firing school conducted here by the gun club and the Warren Rifle Club are eligible to participate in this shoot.

Those residing in the central part of the town and desiring transportation to the range are asked to meet at the army building promptly at one o'clock; those on the east side, meet either at the intersection of South street and Pennsylvania avenue or the corner of Park street and Pennsylvania avenue at the same hour.

The Army "E" shoot on Sunday will be followed by a 30 calibre rifle match at 200 yards over the same range.

Those who have registered for the small arms firing school to start on Tuesday are asked to be at the state armory at promptly seven o'clock that evening.

Instruction of the school held a special session last night and had the pleasure of a surprise visit by Major Austin L. Swanson, former Company I officer on furlough from Camp McCain, Miss.

Major Swanson gave the teachers a practical demonstration and brief outline of the newest in army technique for riflemen and commendable the local school very highly for the valuable training given inductees.

It was stated today that his ideas will be applied and put into effect in the class instruction to begin on Tuesday.

OBITUARY

JOHN G. SMITH

John Galbraith Smith, member of the Warren County Bar Association and practically lifelong resident of the community, died suddenly this morning in Youngstown, O., where he had made his home for some time. He was graduated from Amherst College in 1896 and from New York Law School two years later. That same year he was united in marriage with Kate Brown, who preceded him in death in 1932.

He leaves two sons, Richard G. of Warren, and William, of Cleveland, O., also one granddaughter, Miss Sally, of Warren.

Funeral services will be held in the Davidson Funeral Home at Struthers, O., at 2 p. m. Sunday, with burial at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, Market street, left this afternoon for Youngstown.

MRS. DAVID ALEXANDER

Mrs. David Alexander, of Warren, passed away at 9 a. m. Thursday after an illness of eight years. She was born in Forfarshire, Scotland, on August 18, 1875. She was married to David Alexander, who preceded her in death by four years.

She leaves the following children: Mrs. H. P. Wallace, Titusville; John L. Alexander, New Castle; Bruce J. Alexander, Syracuse, N. Y.; three grandchildren, Patricia and Elizabeth Wallace, Titusville, and Janet Alexander, Syracuse; and one sister, Mrs. William Spinner, Warren.

The body is at the Peterson Funeral Home where friends may call and where private funeral services will be held at four o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Camp Period Closes Today With A Swim

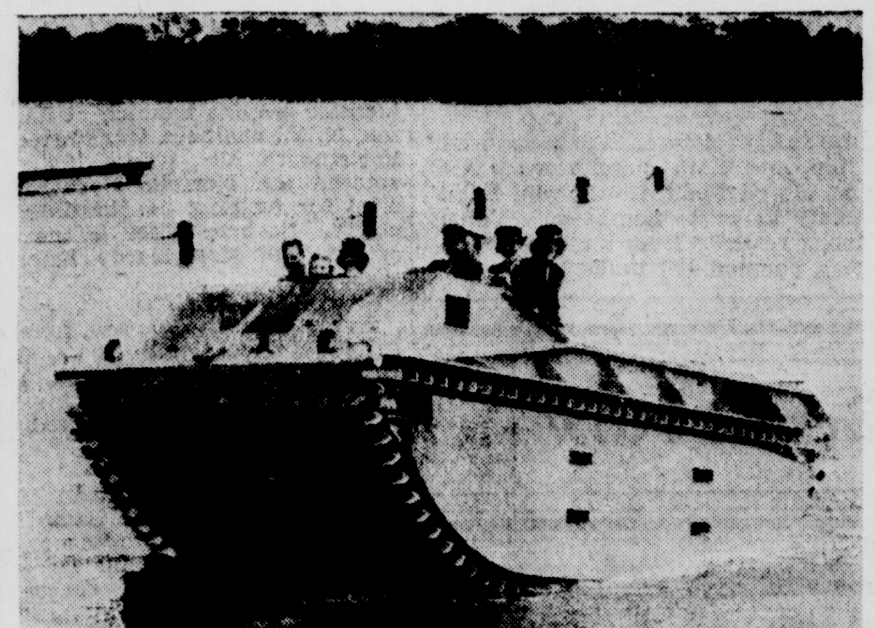

The stay-at-home or wartime camp of the YWCA, closing this afternoon with a final swim in the "Y" pool, was voted by campers a huge success and much regret was expressed at the all-too-soon closing time.

In addition to the daily camp schedule, roller skating at the Lexington rink was an added attraction in Wednesday's program, with "Stunt Night" in the evening, when all the groups presented a stunt and campers acted as judges for the best performance. The "Mulligan Miracle Medicine Troupe" was the winner, wonders having been performed on a star counselor and patient, Betty Jean Brown. The serving of punch and cookies was a surprise feature for the campers.

Thursday afternoon, the girls in the dramatic group under the direction of Anna Nichols and Ann Harrington, very ably presented the play "Once In a Bright Blue Moon" with the following appearing in the cast: Alice Betts, Gerry Peterson, Mary Uhr, Marian Endress, Frances Johnson, Nancy Boynton, Margery Marker, Doris Sharp, Marie Kamerer, Betty Lauffenberger, Beverly Johnson, Connie McNulty, Phyllis Bergstrom and Joyce Minter.

The last edition of the camp newspaper "Day Camp Sizzle" contained the usual "Good Bye" until next year, and sincere expression of appreciation from the campers to the YWCA and those in charge of the program, and from the secretaries, Mrs. J. H. West and Dorothy Schmidt to the campers and counselors for their splendid cooperation and help which made the first venture in a "day camp" a pronounced success.

Lady Leathernecks: Montezuma Was Never Like This!

Meet the Lady Marines, who learn about everything from alligators to floor mops at their New River, N. C., training base. Pvt. Eleanor Marschke of Denver runs a camera; Pvt. Lorraine Boothe of Hampden, Conn., takes her turn at mopping the barracks floor; Pvt. Marion Chadwick of New York, lower left, operates the sight on a big gun; Pvt. Dorris Irwin of Silver Springs, Md., drives a jeep. The gay girls in the center are taking a ride in the Marines' "alligator" landing boat, while below them a pair of lady leathernecks practice the tricks of disabling an opponent.

Chaplin Miscast as Sad Little Comic; He's Really Hollywood's Great Lover

By NEA Service
Hollywood, June 24—Movietown has come to the conclusion that through all his years of success and acclaim, Charlie Chaplin has been miscast.

Of course he did all right as an inarticulate clown—a wistful, futile little guy who almost always lost the girl in the last reel. But his newest adventures in romance, including his marriage to 18-year-old Oona O'Neill, serve to confirm what quite a number of people hereabout have slyly suggested for a long time—that Charlie Chaplin really is Hollywood's Great Lover.

Movie colony gossip about the white-haired comedian has been busy ever since he acquired a new protegee a year or more ago. He began to be seen here and there with Joan Barry about the time that Pauline Goddard obtained a divorce in Mexico on June 4, 1942. Miss Barry, it turned out, was going to be the star of "Shadow and Substance," which he had bought for personal revision and filming.

ROMANCE RUMORED

Naturally, considering the list of other Chaplin Studio apprentices who had married the boss, there was some speculation about whether this one would, too. But none of his friends believed that he ever would be married again, to anybody. That also was the expert opinion of Pauline Goddard, whose own marriage to Chaplin remains something of a mystery to this day.

The comic and the 18-year-old daughter of Playwright Eugene O'Neill have been acquainted about eight months, but the flourishing quality of their romance remained unsuspected until it was learned that she, too, had become a Chaplin protegee and that he was planning to give her a starring role in

Pauline Goddard . . . No. 3

Mildred Harris

Lita Grey

Joan Barry

Oona O'Neill . . . now No. 4

Chaplin . . . comic or Great Lover?

a picture. Her father was reported doing his indignation best to break it up.

Meanwhile the Chaplin-Barry association had broken out in a rash of farce and melodrama. After the teen-age ex-waltress had been arrested on a vagrancy charge, having confronted Chaplin with a pistol in his home, and after she had brought him to court with the charge that he was the father of her expected child, Hollywood assumed that he would be far too busy with legal unpleasantness to concern himself with romance.

SURPRISE!

So Movietown was flabbergasted by his marriage to the minor-league poet and actress, Oona O'Neill, who last autumn was chosen Glamour Girl of the season by Story Club saloon society.

All of his wives and most of his proteges have been youngsters. Chaplin was 29 when he married Mildred Harris, who was 17 and his leading lady. Next time it was Lita Grey, his feminine lead in "The Gold Rush." Their settlements, following their divorces, cost him $932,500. When her turn came, Miss Goddard fared very well, too, but no specific sum has been announced. Pending the outcome of a blood test and possible paternity suit, Miss Barry is receiving a settlement from Chaplin.

Sensational events of the past few weeks have led some Chaplin admirers to liken him to the late John Barrymore, a great actor who tossed away his dignity and much of his artistic standing because, finally, he simply didn't care Chaplin long has been criticized by members of the movie colony for his refusal to make more pictures.

Reams of court testimony have explained something of Chaplin's technique as Hollywood's Great Lover, Miss Barry, in critical retrospect, has said he sounded "corny."

But everyone who has attended Chaplin's parties—and more recently his crowded Sunday morning champagne breakfasts—can tell you that he has great charm for either sex and any age. The comedian works hard as a host, has a flattering knack of being individually attentive while seeing that everyone has fun. His imitations, songs and harrangues in dialect-gibberish are famous. Almost as shy as Garbo in public, he loves to entertain at parties.

HE'S 54, ACTS IT

There is nothing of the decadent matinee idol in Chaplin. He doesn't back in past triumphs and will discuss his pictures only with a sort of academic detachment. He is well and conservatively tailored, moves and speaks with quiet dignity and generally behaves like a man of 54. He never dyed his hair except when making a picture, and even then the color was washed out each evening and applied again next day.

A stranger would find it difficult to identify the off-screen Chaplin with his familiar movie characterization. The actor, too, is oddly remote about the tramp and speaks of him only in the third person—as "he," or "the little fellow."

SHEFFIELD NEWS

A MATTER OF Profit and Pride to the Whole Pennsylvania Oil Region

EXPERTS tell us that our Association is an outstanding co-operative advertising success.

Since PGCOA was organized in 1923 we have invested over $2,500,000 in national advertising to tell car owners of America how good our oils are. Our advertising has been conservative—never sensational. Our oils have borne out every claim we have made for them.

Today more and more of our oils are going to war. But a priceless backlog of consumer preference has been built and is being maintained. An overwhelming majority of motorists continue to prefer 100% Pure Pennsylvania Motor Oils.

That fact means money to our producers, our refiners, our jobbers and marketers. It is a matter of profit and pride to the entire Pennsylvania Oil region.

If you are a member of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, you know the good work the Association has done for producers, refiners, and marketers of Pennsylvania Oils. If you are not a member, you may find it much to your advantage to talk with one of our executives who will call at your request, at no obligation to you.

Here's that flit crochet cloth you've always dreamed of owning. Start crocheting now and use it this summer. Rich yet simple in design, there are rows and rows of plain mesh and easy border design on which you can make real speed. Pattern 636 contains charts and directions for cloth in three sizes; stitches; list of materials required.

Send ELEVEN CENTS in coins for this pattern to Times-Mirror, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS.

EARTH SLOWING DOWN

Tidal friction, according to scientists, has slowed the earth's rotation a total of about four hours during the period of geological time.

A moment before this picture was snapped the beach was deserted while the five airmen shown waving wildly with joy—on seeing rescue after being marooned on this Pacific isle 66 days—kept hidden to determine whether the plane was friend or foe. Left to right are Sgts. Donald O. Martin, William H. Nichols, Jim H. Hunt, Robert J. Turnbull, and Lieut. Ernest C. Ruiz. Also on the isle, but not in the picture, was Sgt. Theodore H. Edwards of Youngstown, O. (U. S. Army Air Corps Picture.)

Tire Problem Serious One In County

Warren motorists are being warned by the Ration Board that the new tire situation is serious. The Ration Board has a long waiting list for new tires far beyond the quota of the local board.

In a statement today the Board states that for several months it has been allowed additions to the quota for passenger tires but the District Office of the OPA at Erie warns they can not give any new passenger car tires beyond the regular quota for Warren.

In addition to this the quota set for next month is smaller than it has been.

Applications are being closely rationed for the tires the Board is allowed strictly to their essentiality, but as the greater number of applications are from workers there is nothing that can be done for others.

The advice given by the Board is for motorists not to drive fast, far or long. If an application must be made for tires it is urged that it be made for third grade and that no attempt be made to high pressure the board.

Meadville Pioneers Invade Warren Sunday At 4:00 P. M.

National Forge in Top Shape For Classic Tilt With Talon Town Nine

The National Forge in their approaching meet with the Meadville Pioneers, Sunday afternoon at 4:00, have finally reached that peak of perfection that they have taught Warren fans to expect and other teams to respect.

Because of working hours, victory gardens and the general run of war duties which has hit the entire team, not to mention everybody else in town, it has been a hard year to get the team in shape, but with three games booked in a row this week, that stride has been attained.

Stacking up against the Struthers-Wells aggregate on the State Hospital layout at 6:15 tonight, the Forgers follow it up with a clash with the fast improving Warren Lodge of Elks at the same place tomorrow afternoon, then finally top it off on Sunday when they face the Meadville nine, regarded as contender to the Forge for the fastest semi-pro outfit in the section.

Richard "Diz" Hines is slated to toe the mound for the Irvine team on Sunday and his opponent will be Meadville's ace moundsman, Dusty Elmon.

At latest reports, Stiggy Petrowski, one of the best second sackers ever turned out of Warren's baseball circles, will still be here on furlough from the army to play his final game for the Forge, probably for the duration, and with him on hand, rounds out their strong infield to defensive perfection.

The game is slated for 4:00 p. m., and should draw the largest crowds seen this year on Russell Field.

Cellar, Team Is Victor In Close Game

	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Joseph	4	0	1.000
Episcopal	3	1	.750
Grace Methodist	2	2	.500
First Methodist	1	3	.250
Baptist	1	3	.250
Presbyterian	1	3	.250

The longer the Y. M. C. A. Church Softball League goes the better the games seem to get. In a game that went 11 innings and was chock full of excitement, the Presbyterians took the measure of the Baptists last evening on Beaty field, 12 to 9. "Presby" trailing at the way staged a rally in the 11th inning that swept the Baptist aggregation off their feet, took their breath away, and decisively won the game.

"Tink" Bean who threw them across for the Presbyterians did a noble job and went the whole distance. He let his teammates know that he was depending on them and they lived up to that dependability.

It took three pitchers to complete the game for the Temple boys. "Gus" Rossman started off, he was followed by "Buck" Samelson, who in turn was followed by Farrell. The Baptist strategy seemed to be to switch pitchers

Timely Advice For Woodchuck Hunters

Harrisburg, June 25—(A)—Pennsylvania hunters gunning for woodchuck after the season opens July 1 were urged today by the State Game Commission to wear bright hunting costumes to avoid being shot accidentally.

Officials listed three precautions for hunters: "One, wear plenty of red, orange or even white clothing; two, refrain from lying down in high grass with head uncovered; and three, carefully select a place of concealment that will not invite a shot from someone who fires at the slightest movement."

frequently, and it worked until "Presby" got their batting eye sharpened up in the 11th.

This coming week will see the finish of the first round, and the games line up as follows:

Monday, Grace Methodist vs. Presbyterian.

Tuesday, St. Joseph takes on the Baptist.

Thursday, First Methodist meets the second place Episcopallians.

A loss in the wrong direction will be liable to put some of the top teams in an embarrassing position so the spectators can look for some smart ball playing.

"Rip" Sewell Setting Record Unmatched By Any Pitcher In Senior Circuit This Season

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Truett Banks Sewell, a strawberry blond from the deep south, was one of the National League leaders in defeats last year, but this season has a chance to lead in victories, which is versatility to say the least.

To date "Rip" has won nine games, going the route in every one, and has been beaten only twice—once by one run and another time when his Pittsburgh Pirates were shut out.

This is a record matched by no other pitcher in the senior circuit and seems to prove that at the age of 35, when most pitchers have gone over the hill, Sewell is still climbing.

In 1940 his record was 16-5, last year 14-17 and this year he could write his own ticket if he could choose the number of times he would get to face the Chicago Cubs.

Thus far he has beaten them five times, including 2-1 yesterday, without a setback. This is one of the principal reasons the Pirates are a strong third in the National League, four games back of Brooklyn.

The Dodgers were set down by the New York Giants 3-1 after winning the first five games of a six-game series and lost ground not only to the encroaching Pirates but also to the first place St. Louis Cardinals, who crushed the Cincinnati Reds 6-1 in a morning game.

Brooklyn's loss was occasioned by a three-hit pitching beauty by Lefty Cliff Melton, although the Giants themselves were held to five safeties by three hurlers. Harry Gumbert held the Reds to seven hits to beat Bucky Walters for the second time in ten days.

The Phillies battered the Boston Braves with 16 hits to win a 12-5 decision and split their six-game series, with St. Johnson taking credit for his seventh victory.

In the American League the two top clubs, New York and Washington, were idle but their leading rivals both were beaten. The Philadelphia Athletics overpowered the Boston Red Sox 8-3, scoring all their runs in their last three turns at bat, and the Detroit Tigers whipped the Cleveland Indians 7-4. Virgil Trucks pitched the route in the latter game and also made three of the Tigers' twelve hits.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns divided a double-header with Vern Stephens hitting a single with the bases loaded in the tenth inning of the opener to give the Browns an 8-7 victory and the Sox retaliating with a 9-2 verdict in the nightcap. The two games produced 48 hits and three in each contest were made by Chicago's rookie star, Guy Curtright, who extended his batting streak to 20 games.

Montgomery To Fight In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, June 25—(A)—Bob Montgomery is going to fight here this summer. He has the sanction of the new Pennsylvania athletic commission. Now all he needs is an opponent.

The commission, which took office yesterday, undertook to provide opposition, too, for the recently recognized lightweight champion, Chairman Leon Rains said he would be matched with the No. 1 challenger—as soon as the challenger is designated.

Rains and the other hold-over commissioner, George J. Jones, Jr., Williamsport, were sworn in at Harrisburg with the new member, Matty B. Bain, Uniontown, who said "there won't be any deviation" from acts of the general assembly or commission policy when he takes charge of the Pittsburgh office today.

Rains, a Philadelphian, said commission activities "are in a healthy condition and the commission is now self-sustaining" because of the 5 per cent tax on boxing and wrestling watch receipts.

"Y" Preparing Busy Season For Members

After major repairs and improvements, the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool, most refreshing spot in town, is open and again bringing joy to men and women, boys and girls, who enjoy a plunge and a swim in clean, healthful water.

More efficient circulation of the swimming water through filtration and heating units, and even more dependable and fool-proof sanitation, have been insured by the installation of a new circulating line and of an automatic chlorinating machine. This means that the "Y" pool meets the highest possible standards of health and sanitation for swimming.

While the pool was closed the tile was thoroughly scrubbed and a coat of new white paint was placed on the walls of the natatorium. Additional repairs and painting of the room in which the pool is located will further enhance the attractiveness of the natatorium in the weeks to come.

Delayed by the almost-constant rain of the spring season, work now in progress on the tennis court will soon have this facility for summer sport ready for use. With vacation time here and these facilities for wholesome, healthful recreation ready for action, the "Y" staff is expecting an influx of young people, as well as oldsters, to take advantage of the low summer membership rates. The minimum age for a boy or girl is 9 years, but anyone becoming a member during the summer is eligible. Thursday afternoon hours are set aside for girls and women, and the mixed swimming period on Tuesday night is being continued. For the boys and men the showers and pool are available for their enjoyment almost every day or evening. Gas rationing has put a crimp in pleasure travel, but one can still go places and do things by using the Y. M. C. A. privileges.

TIDIOUTE

Tidioute, June 22.—The W. B. A. met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Grettenberger for a tureen dinner. Following the dinner the business session was in order and a social time.

The vacation Bible school which opened Tuesday morning is held in the Baptist church and conducted by the Rev. Crosby, pastor of the Baptist church of Tidioute. The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. G. Pickersgill with a six o'clock dinner. Mrs. R. L. Thomas had charge of devotions. The hostesses were Mrs. G. Pickersgill, Mrs. Gertrude Lawrence, Mrs. Earl Sundell, Mrs. Ward Cousin and Miss Irene Phillips. Mrs. Rex Biekarek and children of Warren spent the past week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grettenberger.

Miss Crissie Lambert of Bakers-town spent Friday afternoon and night with Mrs. Moss, stopping on her way to Chautauqua Assembly Grounds where she will spend the summer.

Pvt. Bud Hunter of the U. S. M. C. R. Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunter, left Tuesday June 22nd for his basic training at Parris Island, S. C.

Mrs. Louise Elder returned home last week after spending the winter with her daughter in Erie. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Louise Thomson of Cleveland and Aviation Cadet Donald Thomson and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrow of Fairport, N. Y., spent Monday and Tuesday in Tidioute visiting his mother and family. Fred is leaving Friday for Sampson, N. Y., to join the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson and family accompanied by a friend, Allen Lynn, of Mt. Lebanon, are house guests at the home of P. A. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ulf left Tuesday morning for Boston, Mass. for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ulf.

Mrs. Carrie Bimber spent the weekend visiting in Titusville. Miss Betty Sundell spent three weeks in Ridgway visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Morris Clinger and two children of Oil City are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Clinger.

Mrs. George Harris, Mrs. Roy Miskimon, Mrs. George Clinger and Mrs. Hollingsworth were business visitors in Jamestown Tuesday.

Mrs. K. Pearl Stover will spend a few days in North Warren, guest of her daughter, Mrs. Boyd Sanden.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brocklehurst of Titusville spent Saturday with Mrs. Frank Brocklehurst.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cornish and family left for LeRoy, N. Y., where Mr. Cornish has accepted a position for the summer.

Mrs. Bertha Lyons of Warren was a business visitor in town Tuesday.

There are 62 square miles in the District of Columbia.

Flowers to Sow if You Are Late

A FEW EASILY GROWN ANNUALS WILL KEEP THE HOUSE SUPPLIED WITH DECORATIVE BOUQUETS ALL THROUGH THE SUMMER.

If June comes with no flower seeds sown, there is still time to have flowers in your Victory garden. Suppose you demanded a combination of flowers which would germinate in five days (in warm weather) and flower in thirty to forty. Here are some you might get:

Zinnias, ageratum, alyssum, candytuft, centaurea, clarkia, cynoglossum, annual sunflowers, morning glories, annual pinks, lepto-syne, linaria, marigolds, poppies. Such a list might be very much enlarged by including varieties which will germinate in a week or ten days. But it would be interesting to see what sort of garden could be made of just a few flower families, seeking interest by using different colors and types.

Take zinnias for example—they could hardly be omitted from a garden of annuals. There are the small-flowered singles, the small-lipped doubles, the intermediate or "pumila" type and the giant flowered varieties. They give an abundance of pink, red, orange and yellow varieties with a few lavenders. A whole border might be planted mostly to zinnias, provided one used enough ageratum, centaurea and cynoglossum to introduce the needed blue tones.

There is no reason to confine your sowing to the quickest germinating subjects. All annuals can be sown at this time and will bear flowers by mid-July. They grow much faster in warm weather and their flowers are finest in the last half of the season, usually improving until frost arrives.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—When the Connally-Smith anti-strike legislation was laid on the President's desk, Mr. Roosevelt was "on the spot" as he has been few times before in the 10 years he has been in the White House.

There were only three possibilities: (1) to veto the measure; (2) to sign it; and (3) to allow it to become law after ten days, without signature. For all practical and political purposes, the last two could be grouped together, with the split-hair exception that in the latter case the President would be dodging the issue by allowing to become a law a bill for which he had no enthusiasm.

The President and his advisers must have seen that signing the bill would alienate labor. The A.F.L. through William Green and the C.I.O. through Philip Murray protested it and appealed for a veto. A number of other independent unions joined in the parade.

TO ANTAGONIZE this great bloc of voters meant to jeopardize the fourth term or at least control of the 1944 ballots to such an extent that all the President's plans for prosecution of the war or promulgation of the Four Freedoms peace might be sidetracked in a new and hostile administration.

On the other hand, veto of the bill meant that it would be im-

All Canning Plans In Shape In Two Towns

Food production classes in the OSEA program have been held for the past six weeks in Pine Grove and Freehold townships, with a series of lessons on vegetable production, diseases of fruits and vegetables, insect control, proper fertilization and cultivation, planting procedures.

Eli Martin, vocational agriculture teacher from Sugar Grove, has been the instructor for the course at Russell and R. L. Albright, vocational agriculture teacher at Youngsville, has been the Lottsville teacher.

Announcement is made today that classes in food preservation are to be started in both communities next week, with a canning center set up at the Van-Orsdale and Wiltse store room in Russell. The first lesson will be at 8 p. m. Monday, with actual canning demonstrations carried on in addition to the regular lessons on preservation of foodstuffs.

Canning center for Freehold township will be located in the Lottsville High School, starting Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Miss Gertrude Ostroski, of Youngsville school, will be the instructor for both courses and invites any adult interested in canning and preservation of foods.

Sugar Grove Girl Scouts Win Awards

Girl Scout Troop 6 of Sugar Grove has been awarded the "troop campership" by the Warren County Girl Scout camp committee, it is announced today. This award is given for outstanding performance and especially good programs through the period elapsing since the last camping season and allows a $4 scholarship which each girl in the troop may apply on her camp board.

Miss Mabelle Myers has been troop leader during the year and projects upon which the group has worked include decorating a troop room in the home economics building in Sugar Grove and troop camping at Camp Birdsall Edey. A number of Sugar Grove Scouts will start the 1943 camping season at camp on Sunday.

SETTING OF EASTER
Present rule for determining the date of Easter was adopted by the Council of Christian Churches in 325 A. D. This rule says that Easter shall be the first Sunday following the Paschal full moon, on or soon after March 21.
